KEEN INTEREST AROUSED
in Hospital Election. The most absorbing topic of conversation in Princeton this week seemed to be the forthcoming election of trustees to the Board of Princeton Hospital. The meeting of the Hospital Corporation on Monday, February 27, at 8 p.m. (place to be announced) promises to be a standing-room-only gathering.

A new 50-member organization, the Friends of Princeton Hospital Committee, announced this week a slate of five candidates to fill the five posts open on the Board and a group of Princeton physicians has joined the Committee in sponsoring the candidates. The deadline for nominations was Wednesday night and the hospital is expected to announce the names of other candidates this Thursday.

The five candidates nominated by the Friends of Princeton Hospital are Dr. Robert Garber, 30 Fackler Road; Mrs. Harry C. Hart, 21 Lilac Lane; Dean Elmer G. Hornigshausen, 80 Mercer Street; Dr. Richard A. Lester, 121 Broadmead; and Norman Sprague, 164 Nassau Street.

Dr. Garber, a psychiatrist, is medical director of the Carlier Clinic and was superintendent of the N. J. Neuro-psychiatric Institute from 1952 to 1958. Dr. Hornigshausen is Dean of Princeton Theological Seminary and a member of the Borough Board of Education. Mrs. Hart is a trustee of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association and a former member of the board of the Family Service Agency. Dr. Lester is professor of economics at Princeton and a former member of Borough Council. Mr. Sprague is consultant on rehabilitation and administrative assistant to the chairman of the department of preventive medicine, Seton Hall College of Medicine. He is also a research assistant with the state disability insurance service.

Platform Set Forth. The Committee has stated that it asked these candidates to run because as a group, they represent "the diverse and expanding community of Princeton." They were also chosen, according to the Committee, "for their willingness to take a new look at the entire government of the Hospital in an effort to make constructive improvements" and because they believe in the principle of rotation on the Board of Trustees. In addition, the Committee says that "each candidate wishes to work for the improvement of relations between the Hospital administration, the physicians, the staff, the patients and the community."

Thomas P. Cook, co-chairman of the Committee, says that the group is "not out to get anyone," but believes that those who are elected to the Board of Trustees should have an open mind on the question of the hospital administrator and the presidency of the Board. Mr. Cook also says he feels that the Board president should, during his term of office, train a vice-president who could then assume the presidency after a stated period of time.

"No one is pointing a finger of criticism at any individual," says Robert Van De Velde, a member of the Committee. "Our chief interest is in wider community participation in the affairs of the Hospital."

He says that during his campaign for election to Borough Council on the Democratic ticket last fall, he was approached by many people who thought the Hospital "should be looked into." Mr. Van De Velde says that no specific charges were made, but that people who spoke to him felt that the situation at the Hospital should be studied.

"These people indicated to me that they were not entirely happy with the way the Hospital was being run," he says. Mr. Van De Velde emphasized that he had heard nothing but praise at Committee meetings for the medical standards of the Hospital.

Pro and Con. One member of the Committee says that some persons feel that Hospital rates may be out of line, that certain medical facilities may not be available to lower income groups, and that the administration acts in an arbitrary manner without consulting the physicians on the Hospital staff.

The Rev. David H. McAlpin, Jr., another member of the Committee, says "Many people within our group are asking whether Negroes are being given equal opportunities at all levels of technical and administrative work in the Hospital."

Hospital spokesman say that no member of the Committee has ever conferred with John W. Kaufman, Hospital administrator, or with John H. Wallace, Jr., chairman of the Board of Trustees, to ask questions about Hospital administrative procedures or to express criticism.

"To the best of my knowledge," says Mr. Wallace, "none of them has approached me, or any of the Hospital officers or members of the executive committee."

Board "Not Representative." Mr. McAlpin, repeating the Committee's announced platform of wider community participation in Hospital affairs, says that the members of the Board of Trustees suggested at last year's annual meeting of the Corporation that the Board begin several new people to join, but Mr. McAlpin says that the Board never followed through on this suggestion.

"We are dissatisfied with the concentration of power within the Board of Trustees and the Hospital administration and its use without democratic checks," Mr. McAlpin said.

We were asked if we remembered the most famous "horse trade" of all, when, in mythology, the Trojan Horse was offered to the people of Troy in trade for their good will. Well, we looked up the details, and sure enough, as in most "horse trading," someone got "stuck," but good!

It was a big beautiful horse on the outside, but hidden inside were the enemy, Greek soldiers, who stormed out of their hiding places soon after this beautiful wooden horse was rolled through the gates of Troy; that was one time when a gift horse should have been looked in the mouth.

An automobile can turn out to be your Trojan Horse, beautiful on the outside, but plain financial poison for you on the inside. Of the 13 thousand parts that make up a new or used car you can see no more than the surface of a hundred or so. The integrity of the dealer from whom you buy is your only assurance that some of the other 12,000 parts will not turn out to be your enemy, literally and disastrously.

Well, let us repeat that we'd rather be captured by you without our integrity intact than ever to have it believed we had sold a Trojan Horse. That policy has rewarded us, just as you are abundantly rewarded every time you trade with us.

There are 17 members on the Board of Trustees. Five have served three years (less. A term is three years). Four members have served 13 to 18 years. The other eight have served from four to 12 years.

The Committee will campaign for its candidates, "very definitely and strongly," says Mr. Cook. According to two members of the Committee, one Trustee had indicated last week that the Hospital would accept the Committee's slate, but Mr. Wallace says that the Trustees as a group have never said that they would do so.

The Committee was started by a small group which formerly been affiliated with the Childbirth Education League, but the aims of this group are not predominant in the platform of the Friends of the Hospital.

Mr. Cook says that such matters as fathers in labor rooms and so on, should, in the opinion of the Committee, be left up to the Trustees and the medical staff. Two members of the 12-man executive committee of the new group were associated with the Childbirth League. They are Mrs. Dennis Flanagan and Mrs. John K. Hemphill.

Mr. Van De Velde says that the Friends of Princeton Hospital plan to continue in operation after the trustee elections so that they can serve the Hospital in any capacity including fund-raising. Mr. McAlpin reports that the group is eager to maintain friendly relations with both the Hospital and the Trustees.

BUDGET APPROVED

For Township Schools. The 1961-62 school budget of $1,112,521.25 was approved Thursday night by the Township Board of Education after a public hearing attended by fewer than a dozen Township residents.

Highlights of the budget hearing:

● For the last ten years, according to John Donal of the school board, the number of Township children has increased "in direct linear proportion" to Township rates. This does not mean, Mr. Donal pointed out, that each new child pays for himself, however.

● The Board earned $36,618.77 by levying construction money for Johnson Park and Riverside School until it was needed to pay construction bills and it will follow this policy with funds earmarked for the new school.

● The Township no longer "thins" the teeth of indigent children. This is now done at the Princeton Hospital clinic with the Township's dental work are up for sale.

● Thirty percent of the bus budget is for children with dangerous routes to traverse. When the Township's sidewalk program is completed some routes can be dropped. It costs $4,000 to operate one bus route.

● The Township per-pupil cost is $410.

unusual advertisements that OWN TOPIC has published in its 15 years will be found on page 3. It takes but a moment to follow the directions provided in an intriguing idea credited to The Country Mouse.

The snow and cold this winter have had the Weather Bureau checking records, with the following results: The 13-day period which began January 19 and was unmarked by a single reading as high as freezing has produced a colder stretch than any since the flu-ridden winter of 1917-18. The average temperature during this time has been 16 degrees.

Two readings below zero (minus four and minus five) were recorded in outlying areas last week, while the highest was 24 on January 24. The average for the month was 28.5 — six degrees below normal and therefore one of the four coldest Januaries in Weather Bureau history.

Snowfall so far during the December-January period, totalling 37.6 inches, is also a record for these parts. In about five inches of that amount fell on top of the old last week, four of them on Thursday, and the forecast calls for the possibility of snow or rain this Thursday.

Democratic leaders met for three hours at Morven Saturday in an attempt to unravel the complex political picture, without positive result. It hopes that Congressman Frank Thompson of this district would run, thereby decreasing a primary warfare through a strong candidacy, were ended last week with his announcement that he would stay in Washington to aid the Kennedy administration. Three candidates (from Hoboken, Hackensack and Fort Lee) are already seeking the nomination; with others expected to weigh in during February, another Morven meeting is set for this Saturday in an effort to tab one man with administration backing.

Republicans, too, are far from agreed, with three men definite candidates and more a strong possibility. The situation in both parties will remain in a state of flux until very close to the March deadline for filing petitions to place names on the primary ballot.

American Field Service exchange student Polly Busselle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Busselle Jr., 67 Lovers Lane, made the honor roll at Miss Finer's School by achieving honors during her scholastic stay in Finland, where she has just returned. Mrs. W. Bryce Thompson has a one-third share in a $1,000 TV prize following her participation in the show, "We Tell the Truth."

The office of the Township Building Inspector, W. J. Shinn, and the zoning and planning departments of the municipality are now located in the former Stony Brook School, near Stony Brook bridge on the Princeton-Lawrenceville Road. A sign of the times note: Mr. Shinn's annual report for 1960 shows that five building permits were issued for fallout shelters.

POLICE RESCUE HARTS

From Blazing House. Fire that had gained great headway before it was discovered forced a second-story rescue of two Princetonians in nearby temporary quarters Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hart of 21 Lilac Lane were taken by ladder from a porch roof when smoke and flames made it impossible to go downstairs from their bedroom.

About 11:20 p.m., Mr. Hart heard a crackling sound and opened the bedroom door. Realizing immediately how fiercely the fire was burning, he telephoned Borough Police headquarters while Mrs. Hart dressed hurriedly.

While the alarm was being turned in, five policemen in three cars converged on the scene. A ladder in a nearby shed was raised to the porch and the Harts descended safely.

The rescue was accomplished by Sgt. Robert Anderson and Patrolmen Arthur Gallant and Charles Harris of the Borough; Sgt. Richard Steiner and Patrolman Orlando Carnevale of the Township. It was the first such escape from a fire in Princeton in many years.

Damage Is Extensive. The extent to which the fire had spread before it was discovered made it impossible to save any of the furnishings and household articles. Much of the ground floor of the three-story frame and stone building was gutted, and the flames burned upward through the roof. Water damage was also high.

The Princeton Fire Department was on the scene for the better part of four hours, working at top efficiency despite the extreme cold. The sub-freezing temperature at no time affected the flow of water.

Mrs. Hart said that the central portion of the house is pre-Revolutionary, having been built about 1760. She said that faulty wiring might have been the cause for the fire, but the origin has not officially been determined.

Fire Chief Carl Bohn said that an extensive survey of the house Monday morning showed that the oil burner in the basement had not been the cause. It has been ascertained that the flames broke out on the ground floor, spreading upwards quickly through the two-story stairwell and blocking the Harts' exit.

NEW STATE TAXES ASKED To Meet Record Budget. A

record state budget of $167 million has been announced by Governor Meyner for the fiscal year beginning in July. With that figure, an increase of $36 million over this year, go proposed tax levels in three departments: utilities, motor vehicle registration and real estate transfers.

The new (or increased) taxes would close the $30 million gap between the budget figure and anticipated revenue for 1961-62 totalling $433 million. A surplus of over $1 million is allowed in the new budget, and more than $5 million in highway construction has been postponed until next year because a deficit in the current budget was imminent.

How Much More? The new program would add 2 percent to utility bills (gas, electricity, telephone and telegraph) of New Jersey residents, creating an anticipated revenue of $14 million annually. The 1 percent real estate transfer tax would gain about $10 million a year for the state. Whether it would be paid by the buyer or seller or split between the two has not been decided.

Automobile registration fees would be increased: small cars under 2700 pounds, from $10 to $12; medium-sized cars (owned by nine out of ten drivers), from $15 to $18; and large cars, from $25 to $30.

The fees for truck registration would follow a complicated schedule, with an average increase of 26 percent. Duplicate registration certificates and inspections which a car is sold would cost more. About $15 million a year would be raised through these increases.

Way Out: Governor Meyner pointed out that at least some of the proposed taxes would be avoided if the 10 percent Federal telephone and telegraph tax is released to the states, and if the Legislature adopts the commuter tax suggested previously.

The commuter tax, killed by Senate Republicans last year, would gain for the state income tax payments made by New Jersey residents to New York. Doubt was expressed in 1960 that New York would surrender the money.

The Governor recalled his election promise to levy neither a sales nor income tax. New Jersey, Texas and Kansas are the only three states without either of these taxes. A 2 percent sales tax would bring in about $16 million a year, according to experts.

NEARLY $1,000 RAISED
By Princeton Smith Club. A record total of $3,983.60 has been raised by the Smith College Club of Princeton through its recent auction and raffle. It has been announced by Mrs. James S. Hill, auction chairman. The auction, which was held Saturday in Miss Fine's School gym, brought in $2,905.10 and the raffle netted $1,178.50. All proceeds will go to the club's Scholarship Fund.

Winner of the raffle for a week's vacation trip to Bermuda for two was Mrs. David T. Demme of Rocky-Hill-Blawenburg Road, Blawenburg. Drawing for the raffle was held Saturday during the auction. Raffle chairmen were Mrs. C. Barnwell Straut and Mrs. John Slover.

sale of baked goods and $200.73 from the small gifts table.

Contributions to the Scholarship Fund make it possible for the club to offer scholarships to Smith College to girls living in the Princeton area. The scholarships, of varying amounts, are awarded on the basis of the student's scholastic achievement, extra-curricular activities and financial need. Miss Joyce Washburn of Pennington was winner of the 1960-61 scholarship. Those interested in a Smith Club scholarship should apply through their school principals. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Gordon C. Sikes, 36 Old Lane, club scholarship chairman for the club.

"As one was remarked, 'Let's hope the ground hog sees his shadow Thursday, so we'll be sure that winter lasts only six weeks longer.' It's been a long one already, and for the immediate future, there'll be more of the same. Light snow Thursday is a possibility, continuing cold is a virtual certainty."

Dowers was apprehended by Patrolmen Samuel Lisl and Michael Kopliner. Detective Fred Porter was the complainant. MOTORIST FINED

For Reckless Driving, Borough Magistrate Theodore Tams, Jr. fined Warren C. Strahle, 22, a graduate student from Santa Ana, Calif., $25 this week for reckless driving. In addition, a recommendation was made to the New Jersey Motor Vehicle Department that it revoke Mr. Strahle's license for 60 days.

Traveling on Nassau Street on December 3, Mr. Strahle crossed over the white line into oncoming traffic, hit one car, glanced off it into a parked car, jumped the curb, knuckled down a parking meter, continued across the sidewalk and struck the Balt Restaurant at 82 Nassau, breaking an 8 x 8 foot plate glass window. The car came to rest three feet from the Witherspoon Street curb after traveling 110 feet on the sidewalk.

An attractive new envelope can often furnish the inspiration for an original table-setting and provide fresh ideas for menus. Here we describe two different styles of cook-and-serve ware that seem especially appealing.

From Norway, a light-weight, functional and handsome, unadorned iron-ware. Color is dove white with assorted gold trim in 2, 4 or 6-gal. size at $10.95, $12.50 and $17.50. Acquiring "slices" of teak-wood are available for all sizes. From Denmark, a more formal style resembling Egyptian art. This is also completely functional. Brownish-black "Flamstone" comes in 2 qt. (with domed top), 4 qt. 4 qt. and large, shallow 6 qt. buffet size. Prices start at $14.95. Viewing, of course, is free.

TEAM PRESENTS "LEARN"

As First Shakespeare Play, A 23-member team of actors and directors who have, among them, a total of 420 previous Shakespeare productions, will join this week in presenting "King Lear," the opening play in McCarter Theatre's Shakespeare Festival. "Learn" will open this Friday with an early 8 p.m. curtain.

The 420 productions of Shakespeare in which the 23 team-mates have previously appeared include even "The Two Noble Kinsmen," dubious-ly attributed to a collaboration between Shakespeare and Fletcher.

The productions have been mounted on the stages of the three Stratford Festivals (Aron, Ontario and Connecticut); Antioch, Toledo, Ashland (Oregon); San Diego, New York's Central Park, Old Vic, the Phoenix, New York City Center, various Broadway theatres, the off-Broadway Shakespearewrights, the Brattle Theatre in Cambridge and the Group 20 Players in Wellesley.

One member of the company, Richard Easton, is said to be the only actor in the world to have played at all three Stratfords. Three other members, Ellis Rabb, David Hooks and Richard Graham, have among them either acted in or directed all of Shakespeare's plays, playing 124 roles in 146 productions. "Learn" will be followed on February 9 by "A Midsummer Night's Dream," in which Rosemary Harris will be seen as Titania.

FRY WORK GIVEN

At Trinity Church, Christopher Fry's "A Sleep of Prisoners" is an ambitious work for an amateur church group to assume, but the Young Couples' Club of Trinity accepted the challenge with nerve and verve and presented on Friday and Saturday nights, a thoroughly acceptable production of the Fry play.

It must be said at the beginning, however, that Greenville Cuyler's production and direction were handicapped to an almost impossible degree by the acoustics of the Trinity nave. When the actors were facing the audience (seated in the church pews) and addressing them from pulpit or lectern they could be heard quite well. But when the action withdrew behind the pulpit toward the choir stalls, the actors' voices bounced and rebounded like balls in a handball court and it was almost impossible to understand what was being said.

This unfortunate circumstance tended to scatter the play and to dissipate its unity almost entirely. However, by the time it was half way over, its form began to emerge and by the end, it did indeed have a sense of wholeness—probably because the audience had become accustomed, by that time, to the projections of the various actors.

In "A Sleep of Prisoners," Fry presents four Allied prisoners locked in a church in enemy territory in World War II. In a kind of exclamation "Skins of Our Teeth," he casts his soldiers as Cain and Abel, David and Abimelech, Abraham and Isaac and Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, showing as he moves his actors about, the painful wrenchings of man as he battles with his "absent-fisted" and passionate nature.

The actors are well-cast for their multiple roles. Victor Peller as Private David King and John Miller as Private Peter Able stand out well above the others. Monroe Wade, an old hand at productions of this kind, was relaxed and competent as a middle-aged private who dreams himself God. John Hampl, as Corporal Joseph Adams, made a less notable impression, but such was the nature of his part.

Lighting, under a five-man crew consisting of Lewis Montie, Ralph Kemble, Robert Wadsworth, Montgomery Davis and Daniel Perry, was deft and imaginative. It is a good thing that this was the case, because in a production like this, lighting serves as stage setting, and an inept crew could have spoiled things altogether.

If the acoustics of Trinity can be tamed, The Couples Club would do well to try another, off-Broadway production. "Sleep of Prisoners" was a good beginning.

"MIKADO" PLANNED

Tryouts Next Week. The Savoyards of Princeton will stage "The Mikado," in McCarter Theatre on May 4, 5 and 6, with Monroe Wade serving as dramatic director. Tryouts are scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, February 7 through 9, in the music room at Murray-Dodge Hall. The hours are from 7:45 to 9:45 all three nights.

Parts are available for five male and four female leads, and choruses. The cast will total about 50.

"The Mikado" will be the sixth production for the Savoyards, an amateur group open to any interested member of the community. The five Gilbert and Sullivan operettas previously staged were "Patience," "The Pirates of Penzance," "The Gondoliers," "Iolanthe," and "H.M.S. Pinafore."

"THREE ANGELS" CHOSEN By Hightstown Guild. Next production of the Hightstown Theatre Guild will be "My Three Angels," the comedy which ran on Broadway in 1953 and has since been produced on television. It is being scheduled for production in Hightstown early in March.

Mrs. Joan Friedl will be director. The part of Joseph, originally played on Broadway by Walter Slezak, will be taken

THE PLAYHOUSE

Can-Can (January 25-February 7) has all the ingredients of an excellent movie except excellence. The score is by Cole Porter (and it includes several numbers from shows other than "Can-Can"), the orchestrations are by Nelson Riddle, and the cast includes Frank Sinatra, Shirley MacLaine, Maurice Chevalier, Louis Jordan and Juliet Prowse. Moreover, it only runs 130 minutes (that's practically a short subject these days) and the color photography is superb.

Still, it's a bore. Miss MacLaine behaves so coyly she makes June Allyson look like a cynic. Sinatra acts as if he were doing the late show at the Elks. The script is slow-moving and unfunny, and the music is hurt by some aberrations on the part of Riddle. Notably the decision to have Sinatra sing "It's All Right With Me" at dirge tempo.

The plot forces Miss MacLaine to pretend she owns a can-can cafe, and Sinatra to be a French lawyer who protects her from the police. When an eager young prosecutor (Jordan) convinces a kindly old judge (Chevalier) that the place must be raided, everybody falls in love with everybody else and all ennuis break out. At the end, Sinatra is married to Miss MacLaine.

The only conceivable reasons for seeing the film are: 1) Sinatra's singing, which is still the best despite bad arrangements and evering middle-agedness; 2) Miss Prowse's dancing, which is graceful and pleasant; and 3) Paris, which is prettier than, say, West Trenton.

The Marriage - Go - Round (February 6-14). Regular readers of this department—both of them—will recall that we have been waging a quiet battle for some time against Hollywood's misuse of its new freedom to deal with "adult" themes. Moderation has been our watchword, and will continue to be. We think it's great that Hollywood has been able to produce films like "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," and that distributors are free to import the good foreign films that come right out and admit there's no truth to the stock legend.

But the particular difficulty on the West Coast is that a good many producers seem to confuse "adult" with anything concerning sex; if adultery was a mature subject in "Room at the Top," they tacitly assume it must be a mature subject in the most leering, bumbling comedy, "The Marriage-Go-Round" is a case in point.

The plot concerns a university couple who are happily married until a buxom Scandinavian beauty arrives with the intention of producing a perfect child to be fathered by the university husband. The performances are adequate, but the story is handled with all the subtlety and taste of a group of high school students boasting of apocryphal amatory adventures.

Jane Mason, Susan Hayward and Julie Newmar are the principal perpetrators. It is in CinemaScope and color.

THE GARDEN

Picnic on the Grass (January 30 - February 4) is the latest effort, in French with English titles, of Jean Renoir, France's top director, and son, we believe, of the painter. It is handled with grace and precision, but the subject matter is so silly that the attempt to build anything lasting on it was foredoomed.

The stars are Paul Meurisse, Ingrid Nordine and Catherine Rouvel. Meurisse is a scientist specializing in artificial insemination experiments, Miss Nordine is his wife, and Miss Rouvel is the noble peasant girl who volunteers for the experiments and becomes romantically entangled with the good doctor. That is the plot, take it or leave it. There's a lot of good humor and several inspired situations along the way, but you'll need a high tolerance for nonsense to enjoy it. The film is in color.

'Midsummer' Boys Found

Six boys have been signed up as extras in "Midsummer Night's Dream," which will open at McCarter next week at McCarter next Thursday, February 9. Taking the parts will be Jack Adams, Arthur Kemplon, Steve Kraft, Lowell Miller, Ned Taylor and James Ware.

More than 40 boys tried out for the extra roles in response to McCarter's appeal published last week in Town Topics.

He Who Must Die

(February 6-14), released in 1958, is so good that one respected critic thought it missed being named best foreign-language film of its year simply because it opened in New York during a newspaper strike. Based on the novel, "The Greek Passion," by the late Nicos Kazantzakis, the film deals with a group of peasants who begin to take on the attitudes of the parts they are playing in their village's annual passion play. It is forthright allegory, but it is handled with such delicacy and imagination that the sufferings and triumphs of the characters blend into a profound and prophetic theatrical experience. Jules Dassin, the expatriate director whose other products have included "Rififi" and "Never on Sunday," was the co-author and director. The Greek cast is superb. In black-and-white CinemaScope, the film is not to be missed. Recommended.

Dreams (February 7-11), produced in 1955, is vintage Ingmar Bergman. It is a well-made and absorbing film, but it has neither the airy originality of Bergman's earlier "A Lesson in Love," which appeared at the Garden a couple of weeks ago, nor the distinction of his later, major work, Harriet Andersson, Eva Dahlbeck and Gunnar Bjornstrand are starred. The plot, treated in highly realistic fashion, explores the inner lives of two women: a career-minded model-agent owner who attempts to renew an affair with a man who is now married, and a young model who becomes involved with an aging lawyer. Recommended.

Study in Contrast
A vivid example of man's inhumanity to animals was provided at Saturday's meeting of the New Jersey Humane Society at the Princeton Inn by a delegate who arrived with a puppy she had found abandoned in a snowbank on a highway near Princeton. The puppy was thrown from a car by an unidentified motorist, the delegate saw the incident and rescued the animal.
As it happened, two members of the Princeton Small Animal Rescue League, Mrs. Rutherford S. Pierpont and Mrs. Allan W. Stephens, were among those present at the Humane Society meeting. They took over as soon as they heard the story and before the day ended, a good home had been found for the puppy.
Insurance Companies
At the annual meeting of the shareholders and Board of Directors of Walter B. Howe, Inc., these officers were elected: Russell H. Service, president; Walter B. Foster, vice-president; Mr. Wood; William J. Deitmar, treasurer; Evelyn H. Walton, secretary and Joseph H. Smith, assistant treasurer. All except Mr. Wood are re-elections.

OFFICERS NAMED
By Chamber of Commerce. The Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce has elected officers for 1961, as well as three directors—at-large to serve for one-year terms.
Fred M. Blalcher of PMI is the new president, with J. P. Meyer of Bamberg's and Paul C. Fitzgerald of the Title Council of America. Charles E. A. Muldeur of Princeton University and Robert P. Espino of American Cyanamid. Miss Beatrice Miers was appointed executive director of the Chamber, and secretary of the Corporation.

Study in Contrast

A vivid example of man's inhumanity to animals was provided at Saturday's meeting of the New Jersey Humane Society at the Princeton Inn by a delegate who arrived with a puppy she had abandoned in a snowbank on a highway near Princeton. The puppy was thrown from a car by an unidentified motorist, the delegate saw the incident and rescued the animal.

As it happened, two members of the Princeton Small Animal Rescue League, Mrs. Rutherford S. Piermont and Mrs. Allan W. Stephens, were among those present at the Humane Society meeting.

They took over as soon as they heard the story and before the day ended, a good home had been found for the puppy.

OFFICERS NAMED

By Chamber of Commerce. The Princeton Chamber of Commerce has elected officers for 1961, as well as three directors at-large to serve for one-year terms.

For Historical Society. The Westminster Choir College has invited members of the Princeton Historical Society to a special two-part program on February 2 in the College's Chapel. The program will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Prof. Walter Edmonds Johnson, Head of the Westminster Voice Department, will first address the visitors on the history and influence of the college. REPORT FROM THE PEOPLE: If each were mayor of the Princeton Girl Scout Cookie Sale, which will begin Princeton, the first thing Peter Keegan (left) would do is "something" about the traffic on Nassau Street. John Argue would look into rent standards. For other areas that would receive the first attention of other "mayors", see below. (Staff

Question of the Week

Question: If you were mayor of Princeton, what is the first thing you would do?
Where asked: Around town.

Walter M. Cramp, 10 Westcott Road, advertising and marketing consultant: I would consolidate the Borough and Township so you wouldn't have duplication of everything such as the police and fire departments. Plus the fact that the Borough is losing population and the Township is gaining it and that is going to continue to be true as it is in every community. In the long run, I think both the Township and the Borough would be better off.

Mrs. George Barrie, 24 Hibben Road, housewife: I'd establish a large luncheon at the Nassau Street School because they only have provisions for 43 children. This puts tremendous stress and strain on the parents of children who can't eat there.

Eugene Riger, 122 W. State Street, Trinton, office manager: I would try to arrange for it to be a paying job.

Mrs. Selma Davison, 34 Witherspoon Street, homemaker: I'd try to straighten up traffic crossings on Nassau Street; they're just dreadful. The cars don't give you a chance to get across the street. When the light changes, cars often come at you from either side.

Francis Larkin, 18 Stockton Street, graduate student, mathematics: Pass an ordinance against long concerts by church bells on Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Gagne, 63 McCosh Circle, research aide in history for Princeton University: I would work for consolidation with the Township.

William Scholtz, 35 Stockton Street, manager of Moore's Remove the snow faster so you don't have to throw a lasso around the meter in order to get the money in. In certain streets — especially around the post office, I would restrict parking so the street could be cleaned. Then I would try to get better snow removal for the public schools.

Miss Penny Bush, 391 Nassau Street, Princeton High School Senior: I'd look into the public educational system and reorganize it somewhat. I think there should be a greater emphasis on history and the classics and less on the contemporary aspect of education. There is too much order; each subject should not be so isolated and pigeonholed. There should be an attempt to teach the various subjects as a meaningful whole. Everything should be on a higher level, especially the senior class. In fact, I think the senior class should be on a level with the first or second year of that of a progressive college. Perhaps the first year of high school should be put into the junior high school category. Since public education is geared to the average student, I imagine these things would be hard to do.

Peter Keegan, 1512 Lawrence Road, Trenton, groundskeeper for the University: I'd try to do something about the traffic situation on Nassau Street around 5 o'clock. It takes us 15 minutes to get from the campus onto Nassau Street. The drivers on the side streets don't have a chance to get out.

John Argue, 44 Chestnut Street, groundskeeper for the University: I'd fix a standard rate of rent in Princeton for all working men.

William H. Schelde, 133 Library Place, musician: Get the trucks out of town.

Mrs. Eleanor C. Young, Rosedale Road, homemaker: Consolidate because I think Princeton Borough and Princeton Township should be one. I think it would save again in November.

Robert W. Morrison, Frick Chemical Lab, graduate student: I would try to set up some kind of a standard for rents, including a reasonable ceiling not only for rooms but, particularly, for furnished apartments.

Miss Linda Hingher, 61 Laurel Avenue, Kingston, secretary: Arrange for better and faster snow removal.

Theodore Zampano, 2 Dickinson Street, graduate student: I would see to it that they do a more decent job in snow removal because, in general, I feel it should be the responsibility of both municipal and state institutions, within their area of jurisdiction, to respond more quickly to emergencies created by the weather. I have had a chance to compare the effort engaged in by authorities in other states in towns the size of Princeton and I think they do a more satisfactory and complete job.

George Chang, Edwards Hall, University student: I'd try to get that 208 bypass in here.

Miss Ruth Dunas, 60 Clark Street, Brooklyn, researcher: One of the first things I would do is get some better snow removal equipment. They seem to have very small snow plows here. They should take the snow in trucks out of town proper and dump it.

Adult Drivers Inconsiderate

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Some agency for the enforcement of traffic regulations must be established at Princeton Shopping Center. Reckless and inconsiderate driving and parking are all ways in violence there. Today, January 28, at about 11 o'clock in the morning, a tan Comet, license CFB68, was parked in the roadway in back of the A. and P. Obviously, all traffic in the area was obstructed. This same type of violation occurs continuously.

As a 17-year old, I hear a great deal about inconsiderate teenage drivers. Look at the example we get from our elders!

If "adults" cannot act their age when they are behind the wheel of a car, they must be forced to do so for the common good. If simple consideration for others will not stop people from parking in the middle of a road, perhaps the fear of punishment will. Fear of this type seems to work as a check on individuals of chronological age 4; it will probably work on "adults" of mental age 4.

In any case, something must be done in the Shopping Center. The situation as it stands now is intolerable.

Thanks from Family Service

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We of the Family Service Agency were delighted to learn that the Princeton people have put the Princeton United Community Fund over the top.

As one of the agencies supported almost entirely by the Fund, we would like to go on record as expressing our appreciation.

The Family Service Agency is probably the least publicized and least understood unit in the Fund. The very nature of

We deal with problems of disturbed marriages and broken families. Many such problems are of such an intimate nature, involving both children and adults, that we respect these confidences and want the public to know this work goes on quietly behind the scenes through their generosity.

Our work never overlaps the functions of the regular Welfare Departments of the Borough and Township, and we do not work closely with these departments.

CLUB GIVES $500

New Group Makes Presentation. The Woman's Club of Princeton, which is less than one year old, has given $500 to the Mercer County Center for Retarded Children as its first community service project for 1961.

The Center is financed wholly by private support and a fund drive. Its two applications to the Delaware Valley United Fund were rejected because the school serves very few children, and since it cannot serve more without additional support, its directors feel that private funds are crucial.

Mrs. Norman D. Kelly is president of the Woman's Club. Other officers are: Mrs. Peter C. Hohnbach, vice-president; Mrs. William F. Greene, recording secretary; Mrs. John L. McKee, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Lester W. Coate, treasurer. Approximately 200 women are members.

MEETING SCHEDULED

For Animal Rescue League. The annual meeting of the Small Animal Rescue League will be held next Thursday at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Walter P. Hall, 1 Elm Road. Trustees for the coming year will be elected.

The purpose of the League is to recover lost animals and other pets and return them to their owners or find new homes for them. Those who wish to join the organization are invited to attend the meeting.

J. Fred Fisher, Vice-President and Investment Officer, Trust Division, Princeton Bank and Trust Company, will attend the 42nd mid-winter Trust Conference, a three-day program to be held next week at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City.

Among nine trustees elected by the New Jersey State Potato Association are Harold Britton of Plainsboro, Gordon Tindall, Jr. of Dutch Neck and John Pollock of Cranbury. The three were elected at the 64th New Jersey Farmers Week meeting held in January, at Trenton.

Two Princeton residents assisted in the fund-raising for the Andover Program, which in 15 months netted $6,235,000 for capital improvements at The Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. Hugh Sanson, Andover 1933, of the Princeton-Lawrenceville Road, was chairman for Princeton, while Joseph B. Stevens Jr., Andover 1934, Province Line Road, was in charge of the campaign for the Northern New Jersey area. The sum topped the $6 million goal by $25,000 and is the largest ever raised for a secondary school.

William H. Ellis of Carter Road was one of several men installed as officers in Masonry at a ceremony held in the Trenton Masonic Temple that signaled the beginning of the 99th year of that body.

Report from THE MAYOR

Still Nothing: Each year for many years during the budget-building process, the Borough mayors have asked members of the Council whether they would like to vote themselves a salary for their service as members of the governing body. Again this week the question was put; and the answer remained the same—No. It seems that Borough Councilmen enjoy the opportunity to serve the community; and they do not feel that such service needs to be, or should be, paid for. This mayor hopes that the citizen-taxpayer understands and appreciates the effort and dedication of the six members of Borough Council. Such appreciation, along with their personal satisfaction with a job well done, seems to be reward enough for these men.

A Week of Budgets: Mayor and Council and key Borough staff—especially Borough Clerk Bob Blonney—had a full week of budgeting. Long sessions on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and a full morning's work on Saturday put all but the finishing touches on a host of decisions affecting every municipal service. Thursday's session brought us together with Township Mayor Ken Fairman and his colleagues for the annual review of costs of shared services. These are always interesting meetings, rich with the exchange of ideas and viewpoints on a host of subjects.

Big Bargain: It would be hard to argue that the cost of fire protection in the Princeton community was not one of today's biggest bargains. In 1960, the Township's share of the cost of fire service was mere $16,147 to protect the people and the more than a hundred million dollars in property in the 16½ square miles of that municipality. Even with Borough and Township shares added together, the total is small compared with the potential cost of the service so effectively rendered on a volunteer basis. It is satisfying that equivalent paid protection would cost a million dollars or more per year.

Every Day: During Princeton's community-wide celebration of United Nations Week last October, we reminded ourselves that every day we have opportunities to participate in the building of bridges of friendship with people from all parts of the world. What we do here often speaks more eloquently than what our foreign service and overseas information services tell us about us. Further proof of this is all about us.

Last Sunday, for example, a local church congregation had two distinguished young visitors from the Congo sharing the service of worship. They were Jean Luluwye and Andre N'Kenze. Dumboye and N'Kenze are studying at the University.

Like many other students from foreign lands, they are welcomed in the community. We want to get to know them better, so that we can get to know us. We know that in a shrinking world, our neighbors from around the globe are really the next-door-neighbors of our generation.

Friday Open House: Each week the regular "Tell it to the Mayor" sessions offer an opportunity for people, without appointment, to drop by at Borough Hall to ask questions or express their views. Such sessions are scheduled for Friday, February 3, and Friday, February 10 from 7 to 10 p.m.

PENN HERE SATURDAY
For Important Ivy Game, An Ivy League basketball game whose outcome will go far toward determining the outcome of the 1951 race will be played Saturday night at 8 in Dillon Gym. Pennsylvania's sophomore-dominated quintet, a pre-season choice to give Princeton the hardest run for its money, will provide the opposition.

The Quakers go with Captain Bob Miky, an Ivy choice as a sophomore, and four members of last year's standout freshman team which won 18 of its 21 games. Best of these is 6-3 Bob Purdy, while John Wideman and Jim Graham are other standouts for the Quakers.

As a team lacking in experience will, the Red and Blue ran into trouble at the outset of its league campaign, losing to a good Cornell quintet at Ithaca and then falling victim in an upset to second-year Columbia at Philadelphia. These two defeats will make it an uphill trail all the way for Penn, which will have the added handicap of playing its first game in two weeks following exams.

The Quakers have considerable potential, as a defeat of Villanova and loss by only four points to LaSalle indicate. They are not, however, expected to top the Tigers in Dillon Gym and their resultant 2-3 mark against Princeton's 6-0 will make it very tough to catch the Orange and Black.

ARMY KALLY WINS
Cadets Triumph, 64-62. No coach likes to lose a game by two points, but beginning of a varsity career in that fashion is even less enjoyable. That was the experience Jake McCandless had at West Point Saturday as the Princeton outfit he is running in Cappy Capen's absence lost to Army, 64-62.

Jack can draw some solace from the fact that on any other court, and with somewhat more consistent officiating, his team would have won handsily. One of the two officials that night called just a single foul against Army while finding Princeton guilty of more than a dozen infractions, a somewhat amazing discrepancy between what he saw in each team's brand of play.

The two-week layoff for exams proved no handicap to the Orange and Black, which rolled out to a 15-3 advantage and enjoyed a 35-20 margin at the intermission. But Al Kaemmerlein was called for three fouls early in the game, was replaced at that juncture by Tom Adams and both were waved out on fouls long before the contest ended.

Army staged an uphill rally to catch the Tigers, who still enjoyed a 49-38 lead midway through the final half. But with three minutes to go, the cadets moved into the lead at 62-61 for the first time.

Andy Higgins capped one of two foul shots to bring the Tigers even, but Army froze the ball for a minute and a half before driving in for a layup with 11 seconds left. Both Art Hyland and Don Swan had a shot at throwing the game into overtime, Hyland's layup and Swan's follow falling off the rim.

It was a tough defeat, although anything but costly, and Pete Campbell's 23 points to top both teams brought memories of the hot second half finish he staged last season. (For results of Tuesday's game against Colgate, see page 21.)

SKATERS TO TRAVEL

For Winter Carnival Game, If Princeton's hockey team will win the wide open scramble for runner-up honors in the Ivy League, victory at Hanover Saturday is close to essential. The Tigers will face Dartmouth in an 11 a.m. contest and should trim the Green to keep pace with Yale, which has already won at Hanover. cludes among its ten triumphs a pair of victories over Boston College. The latter coasted to a 15-0 rout of Princeton Saturday in Baker Rink, one of the worst defeats an Orange and Black sextet has absorbed in many years.

 hustle. The two-week layoff for exams and the fact that the season's earlier sessions (club elections) is in progress both had a part in Princeton's lack of ability to maintain earlier form.

The victors led 4-0 after one period and 6-0 before sophomore Bret Mockridge averted a Princeton shutout. Jimmy Hyland got the other Princeton goal but mostly, it was a steady tangle of B.C. shots at the Princeton case—44 of them in all during the long afternoon.

St. Lawrence Wins, 11-2.
 The Tigers took another solid pasting Monday night when St. Lawrence skated to an incredible, one-sided 11-2 victory. Counting 11 Canadians on their squad, the visitors boxed the unusually high total of 20 shots at sophomore goalie Billy Hill.

Hill produced a number of spectacular saves, and the student body was attributable almost entirely to the shoddy defensive play of which Princeton has been guilty much of the season. The two-game total of 23 goals credited to Boston College and St. Lawrence is in proof of the Tigers' inability to stick with the top teams in the east.

The home forces caged the first goal, a flip shot by sophomore Dave Hersey from ten feet out after a pass from behind the cage credited to Hugh Scott. The Tiger's tally came with just 53 seconds gone, but the avalanche was not long in following.

With Bret Mockridge, sophomore defenseman, off center June for tripping, St. Lawrence beat Hill at 2:54 and again at 6:29. It was 6-1 by the end of the period and no contest long before that.

Swimmers Face Army. Inactive since January 11, Princeton's steadily-improving swimming team will entertain Army in Dillon Pool Saturday at 2:30. The varsity fencing team will be in action against Columbia at 2 that afternoon in the gymnasium.

John Conroy's unbeaten (5-0) squash team plays Toronto here before traveling to Annapolis Saturday to meet Navy in a tough match. The wrestler still looking for a victory,

ELECTRICITY

...imagine your life without it!

Difficult, isn't it? And yet only 80 years ago Thomas A. Edison invented the first practical incandescent lightbulb. Today, the electrical industry provides employment for 1 out of every 20 persons.

February 5-11 is National Electrical Week, and Edison's birthday, February 11, will be recognized as Science Youth Day.

On Science Youth Day, Public Service Electric and Gas Company will be host at 5 of its electric generating stations to science students and teachers from all over New Jersey. This is another way Public Service has chosen to remind youth that the future depends on electricity, and that its career opportunities are attractive and abundant.

TIGERS TRIM COLGATE.
Easy Victory Recorded. After shooting successfully over zone, Princeton basketball team tore Colgate's momentum defense apart Tuesday night for a 75-50 victory in Dillon Gym. The contest was the first staged on the Tigers' court that "Cappy Cannon" had missed since returning from Navy service in 1946.

Although the victors never trailed, they led by only 14-12 with 12 minutes gone. In the final eight minutes of the first half, a sharp-eyed surge broke the contest open and Princeton left the floor for the intermission with a 37-22 advantage.

Five minutes into the second round, it was 50-20 for the Tiger quartet, whose numbers converted into easy layups. Pete Campbell was high with 24 shots, while Jack Johnson pulled his entire starting five for more than ten minutes of action left.

disastrous third period cost the Hun School basketball team any chance he had of taking the lead in the Penn-Jersey League Tuesday as it lost to Pennington School 4 to 3.

During the first eight minutes of the second half, the victors poured in 22 points while holding the tied and Black to nine. Pennington pulled away steadily, after having been held to 9-17 through the first quarter and 27-24 at the half. Jim Mayne's 14 points topped Hun's efforts.

COURT RESPIRE COMES

To Belonged Little Tigers. Surrounded by eight defenders in nine games, the Princeton High School basketball team will not resume action until a week from Friday when it meets Hunterdon Central at Hunterdon. The Hunterdon quintet is the lone victim of the toothless Little Tigers, who failed to win a game in January.

The scores of the PHS five, like the weather, have been well below normal in nine outings Coach Tony Brozack's players have yet to hit 60 points their best was 59 against Hunterdon in average, they only 43 points a game. Also hurting the team is its tendency to have one or two sub-par quarters in which a close contest is lost irrevocably.

A case in point is the Blue and White's most recent defeat, a 59-50 loss to Princeton High could connect for only eight points in each of the first two periods. Somerville, for its part, was out for 10 and 26 points respectively to vault to an insurmountable lead.

Once again the leading point-getter for the losers was Gil Fisher with 10. Danny Smith and Don Truesdell followed with six points apiece. Somerville's Pete Richdale and Roger Shattuck outscored PHS, netting 41 points between them.

162 NASSAU STREET

DEAR TRAVELEX,

Our two weeks in the Caribbean was great sport, and we do wish to thank you for all the trouble you took to make our hotel reservations and that precious little car for us. Did you actually know that those little things are in short supply down there? They are. And what's more, it was a real life saver. Tell you why.

We were wondering if we'd really like that hotel you said would be about the best thing for what we wanted (it was—no doubt), but to be able to whistle up that little foreign car and drive off through the scenic countryside and investigate at our leisure those fascinating places we had been shown by the quick little orientation tour your agent had "sold" us was a real pleasure. So here we are back in the snow and ice of our dear little old home town. Our greatest fun now is sporting those deep and very expensive looking sun tan, watching the children stick pins into the little Voodoo dolls that look just like Mummy and Daddy and trying not to be too boring to our friends (who stayed at home snowed out).

Many thanks and as you always say,

Cordially,

Nancy
